

COSMETIC BRACES

Thank you for downloading this report. I hope you will find it informative and it will answer your questions you may have if you are thinking about having braces, cosmetic braces in particular, and how you can have straighter teeth in as little as 6 months.

WHAT ARE COSMETIC BRACES?

Well, cosmetic braces is a term given to a brace system which is primarily aimed at straightening the front teeth or the teeth that you show when you smile.

ARE COSMETIC BRACES NEW?

No, the technology and the brace systems are the same that are used in the traditional braces systems. The main difference is the way in which they are used and what they are used for, which is to primarily concentrate on straightening the front teeth.

WHAT TYPE ARE THERE?

Well, there are a number of options, but they can be split into a few groups.

Clear aligners – These include Invisalign and other clear aligners. They consist of clear gum shields which are very discreet. Once in, they are worn for about two weeks and gradually the teeth are moved over a period of time. It can be quite a lengthy process depending on what is being corrected and in some cases can be up to two years or so.

Fixed braces – The Six Month Smiles System is a brace system that fits into this category. It consists of clear brackets with tooth coloured wire which is on the teeth. The brackets are very discreet. With this system the teeth can be moved very quickly and results can be achieved within 6 months depending on what we are aiming for.

As there are brackets involved, then there can be a little bit of discomfort for the first few weeks, although most people get used to this and they can be very comfortable.

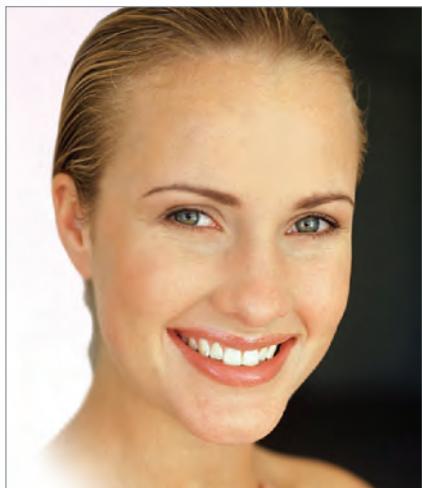

The Inman Aligner – The Inman Aligner is a removable brace which can be removed and usually is worn for up to 16 hours per day. This can usually be used to correct the front 4 teeth. Not everyone is suitable for this, although with a consultation we would be able to determine if you were. One of the main benefits of having this is that as it is removable, it can be taken out for special occasions like social events and no one will know.

WHAT ABOUT AFTER THE BRACE TREATMENT?

Well, there are a couple of things to bear in mind. Firstly, teeth will move and continue to move after treatment so it is very important that you have some kind of retainer to keep the teeth in place. There are a number of different types, although generally a fixed and removable retainer is made. They are very discreet and in most cases they are very easy to get used to as well.

Also, the other thing to bear in mind is that with any brace treatment, the teeth are moved into position. Braces can alter the position of the teeth although not the shape. So you may find that after the treatment the teeth are in the right position although they still don't look quite right.

In this case there are two further procedures which sometimes are required, which finish off and give you the smile that you desire.

They are:

Artificial Enamel bonding – What this involves is using artificial enamel which can be bonded on to the teeth. This can change the shape of the teeth significantly and thus give a much better appearance to a tooth and even alter the whole smile.

Contouring – If a tooth is a little big or has a crooked edge, then this can be corrected by polishing the edge of that tooth. This results in an enhanced appearance. This has to be done very carefully and in the right dimensions to keep within the natural smile.

So sometimes with a combination of contouring and artificial enamel bonding an excellent smile can be achieved.

I hope you enjoyed this report and it cleared up any questions you may have had. If you would like to know more or would like a consultation to discuss your concerns in particular then please give me a call on 01772 717316.
